

Cindy interprets for these collective beings and shares their powerful insight and loving energy with you:

What is the Shashastra Collective?

“We are the Shashastra collective.

The name Shashastra means "starlight"

or the Guardians of the Light.

We are keepers and watchers of love and light on this planet.

We are the maintainers of harmony.

We are the harmonizers of the light.

We are the explosion of light.

We are the harmonizing of the light and the dark.”

Who we are collectively

- Christed ones - that carry the energy signature of the Christed energy, from that lineage of the light frequency.
- We carry Buddha, Gaia and many Divine Feminine energy frequencies.
- We are several off-planetary beings with many names and frequencies that cannot be pronounced in your language.

- We are the Tall Light Beings - which are simply light beings that expand from one end of the universe to the other across space and time - ever traveling light, continually traveling and holding that light frequency, never stopping, always expanding. We are the center of those tall light beings, and are one of the intersecting points where they come together - where we all came from.

What is our mission?

- We, The Shashastra Collective, come together to share in this light-energy frequency that is love on this planet.
- We come together to maintain, hold together, brighten and magnify this energy frequency of love - through this mission, through this being (Cindy) on this planet that is broadcasting to you to hear our message.
- Connect with your deep, inner Earth wisdom and live your day with harmony, balance and alignment with the elements.
